

What I didn't realize when I found Kristina, was the monumental journey that she and our daughter were about to embark upon. Kristina believed in her, won her trust and together they moved forward.

In a very caring, non-intimidating, yet no-nonsense approach, Kristina guided her through many layers which included interview skills. Our daughter worked hard and faced many different obstacles that had been getting in her way, and in the end, won.

As our daughter describes it, "Kristina knew from our first meeting what I was capable of, but she also knew there was a disconnect happening. She was quick to figure out what was needed for me, and to act on it accordingly. Kristina was determined to get things to work out for me, and that I achieve the end result - because that is what it is all about." Through this, our daughter found her voice from within, gained the confidence she needed, and achieved a good position in her chosen field.

Kristina is a perceptive and generous coach who is completely committed and invested in the success of her clients. Thank you so much.
