

“Kristina was there for me at a time in my career when I needed a good push in the right direction. I felt a bit stuck and confused about why my previous methods for obtaining contract work had seemingly ceased to deliver any results. Our sessions were an eye-opener. We developed the right tools to enhance my marketability and I was left feeling more confident about my own short and long term aspirations. I will always appreciate that.”

Tim Norton